Subject: NCI Bid Board Posting – procure service contract for the Sartorius Incucyte S3

The Laboratory of Cellular and Molecular Biology (LCMB) has a long and distinguished history in studying signal transduction mechanisms that control normal cell growth and, when altered, lead to malignant transformation. Through the 1980s and 1990s, many critical signaling molecules, including growth factors, growth factor receptors, and intracellular transduction molecules were first identified and characterized in the LCMB. The mission of LCMB remains focused on performing cutting-edge, world-class research in this field of biology, and important discoveries continue. LCMB Investigators focus on defining signaling components and pathways and understanding their regulation. The relationship of signaling to cellular growth and death, transcriptional regulation, mitosis, cellular differentiation and organogenesis, cell adhesion, motility, and chemotaxis are more complex topics under investigation. Alterations in signaling leading to oncogenesis, unregulated growth, and metastasis are also studied. In all cases, the goal LCMB hopes to achieve is outstanding, innovative, and high-impact science.

This acquisition aims to procure maintenance/repair services from Sartorius for the Sartorius Incucyte S3. This instrument greatly facilitates our research by enabling us to perform long-term, multiplexed live-cell image analysis that is essential to our research. Currently, in the LCMB, we rely on microscopes fitted with incubation chambers for our live-cell imaging needs. This type of setup is not ideal for long-term (i.e., weeks-long) live-cell imaging, Due to the high frequency with which we need to do live-cell imaging experiments and the long duration of our experiments, it has become a necessity to use the Incucyte to simultaneously image multiple experiments for weeks-on-end.

To perform this work, the NCI plans to purchase this service request from the original manufacturer, Sartorius Corporation, Bohemia, NY. This is not a request for a competitive quotation. However, if any interested party believes it can meet the attached requirements, it may submit a statement of capabilities. The capability statement must be in writing and must contain information and material in sufficient detail to allow NCI to determine if the party can fully meet this requirement. The capability statement must be received in the contracting office by 11:30 AM on October 19, 2023, ET. A determination by the Government not to compete this requirement based upon responses to this notice is solely within the discretion of the Government. Information received will be considered exclusively to determine whether to conduct a competitive procurement.

Sole Source Justification:

Sartorius Corporation manufactures the Sartorius Incucyte S3 and is the only company to provide the service.
