Managing Chemotherapy Side Effects

Bleeding Problems

"My nurse said that chemotherapy could make it easier for me to bruise and bleed. He told me what to call him about, such as red, pinpoint spots."

Take these steps:

Protect yourself.

● Use an electric shaver, not a razor.

● Be careful when using scissors, knives, or other sharp objects.

● Wear shoes all the time, to protect your feet.

● Blow your nose gently.

● Brush your teeth with a very soft toothbrush.

● Tell your doctor or nurse if you have hard bowel movements or feel constipated.

Don’t do things that could make it easier to bleed.

● Don’t use dental floss or toothpicks.

● Don’t pick at pimples or scabs.

● Don’t play rough sports.

● Don’t put anything in your rectum, not even a thermometer or medicine.

● Don’t use tampons. Use pads.

Talk with your doctor or nurse before you take any medicine, vitamins, or herbs.

If you start to bleed:
Press down firmly on the area with a clean cloth. Keep pressing until the bleeding stops.

If you bruise:
Put ice on the area for about 20 minutes.
